

creating an extraordinary community for all

Want to help those in need? So do we. Here's how:

People of all ages in our community—including young children—experience homelessness every day. Our goal is to end street homelessness in the City of Minneapolis by the year 2025. With your help, together we can enhance outreach efforts, provide resources for housing and job searches, engage mentorships, fund housing stability and more.

Giving your time, talent and resources through the right channels can make a big impact.
